Vincent Couturier | vincent.couturier@univ-smb.fr

Annecy, France

Senior lecturer in computer science (information systems)

As a second-year computer science student with a passion for new technologies, I particularly enjoy designing databases and developing computer programmes.

Working in a team, whether as a leader or a member, is of particular interest to me. I am looking for an internship where I can use my skills efficiently.

UNIVERSITY PROJECTS

2nd year university project - IUT ANNECY - France Development of the accommodation section on Leboncoin - 1 semester (In progress since early September)

Developing a website from scratch, I had to design the database, including UML diagrams and an MCD (Conceptual Data Model), and populate it with a data set.

The site was developed using Laravel (PHP framework) and included 50 user stories.

1st year university project - IUT ANNECY - France Development of a game in C# with the "Monogame"
Framework - 2 weeks (From January 3rd to January 13th)

Implementation of the configuration and reconfiguration of all the movement keys on a spaceship. Design of a shop system with integrated currency.

Design of several levels based on mathematical calculations.
